Many of the miners imprisoned are married and their widows clamor wildly about the extrance to the slope. Many of the families are entirely destitute.

The slope is 2,600 feet long, and has several level or cross cuts, which inter-sect the slope horizontally at right angles. In opening some of these levels it is impossible to get air circulating this impossible to get air circulating through them until the work of opening the level is completed.

The slope dipped at an angle of 20 degrees and was six feet high and fourteen feet wide. The levels are eight feet

Seven hundred miners are at work rescuing the bodies, only a few of which have been recovered. All were terribly bruised and indicating deati instantaneous. The floor of the city hall was converted into a morgue. The rescued bodies were viewed by crowd a

A sad feature of the disaster is that a large proportion of the victims leave large familes, and as they have not had over two days' work per week the past year, many of them are in straitened circumstances. The scenes about the mouth of the slope were sad in the exen, women and children stane ng about in a dazed condition; pitif entations of the negroes add to the

In conversation Superintendent Har-rison said that in his opinion the ex-plosion occurred either in the sixth level west, or in the seventh level east, and his theory is that some of the miners struck a drill hole full of gas and water, the former forcing the latter out and oringing it in contact with the miners amps. Ho is convinced that ever niner who was at work on either of the hree levels at the time of the explosion s dead. The bodies recovered are ourned, and in some instances charred Others show that death resulted simply from concussion. It appears that those who were on the upper levels sus-tained greater mutilation than those lower down. The relief work still coninnes and the miners are making ever ffort to recover the bodies of the dead It is thought that the lower levels are free from fire, from the fact that the interior air is growing purer hourly.

Corn and Wheat. NEW YORK, May 11 .- The Times pro ents special dispatches from its correpondents in twenty-two states in the Inion, giving a careful and conservative summury of the acreage, condi-tion, prospects, and probable yield of cotton, corn and wheat. The states from which the information comes are the leading ones engaged in the grow-ing of the articles named.

The significant fact about the cotton crop is the decrease in acreage. That there is such a decrease is reasonably certain, though opinions differ as t how great it is. Estimates run from i to 15 per cent. less in Louisiana to 30 to 35 per cent. less in Virginia. Drouth has seriously affected the crop in some states, in others it is reported to be in excellent condition. The total yield will be less than last year.

Corn has suffered from the late spring in the great corn-growing states, but more particularly from continuous and heavy rains. In some states the plowing heavy rains. In some states the prowing is not half done, while in others it has not even been begun. Still, if good weather should come at once, there would be an average acreage and yield.

Wheat.

Of the great wheat-growing states South Dakota is the only one that provides a large crop. In Minnesota three weeks of cold rain have made the prospects of the harvest far from flattering. Similar conditions have prevailed in Wisconsin in a less degree, and the outleast for a large crop is not good. look for a large crop is not good.

Washington has enjoyed good weather, and though North Dakota has had a wet spring, it is confident of a good crop. From Illinois, Kansas and Ohio the reports are not encouraging, though these states have suffered from the spring rains.

London, Rv., May 12.—Leonard Patrick, the young man who killed his sister in Manchester Sunday evening, was arrested and locked up Monday evening. The stepmother, who is charged with hiring her son to kill his sister, was prompted to do so upon the suspicion of her stepdaughter cohabiting with her father.

THE HOUSEKEEPERS' ORGANIZATION OF COCOANUT GROVE.

Florida Women Who Have an Interest ing Way of Securing Relaxation from Their Home Duties-Some Rules and

Away down on the east coast of Flor-Ma. 300 miles south of St. Augustine, is the pretty little settlement of Coconnut Grove. It is situated on the banks of Biscayne bay, one of the loveliest sheets of water for winter cruising and fishing that it is possible to conceive of for those who are not afraid to go beyond the daily mails and telegraph wires, for at present there are no railroads or steamboats, not even a wagon road, connecting us with the outside world-sailboats only, but plenty of those, and good ones, too, which is very necessary, as the nearest market or source of supply is Key West, 150 miles to the south. Of course there is a hotel, postoffice, store and Sunday school building, which, with the Biscayne Bay Yacht club house, the various winter residences of the northern yachtsmen and the pretty little houses of the pineapple growers and cocoanut planters of the keys, each built according to its owner's fancy or means, and set in the midst of cocoanut, lime, orange, banana and guava trees. form a most attractive picture, to which may be added the ever changing life of bay, the coming and going of the yachts, the arrival and departure of the mailboats and freight schooners. But If the place is attractive, very much more are the people who have helped make it, and this is especially so of the women, whose husbands and sons are the spongers, wreckers, carpenters and boatmen of the reef, when not engaged in truck farming or pineapple raising.

It is to these women and their cluba housekeeper's club-that I wish to introduce my readers. A woman's working club in every sense of the word, with an attending membership of twenty and a correspondence membership of ten, the latter residents of New York, Boston, San Francisco, Brooklyn, Staten Island and Key West.

To most of the women born and brought up on the keys of the reef or in Key West, and of English parentagefor the majority of the settlers came originally from the Bahamas-the experience of belonging to a society, however simple, for women only, was a nov-elty. Although "our club" is now a frequent and proud expression among them, and member, in talking it over with her husband, assured him that the bylaws of her club were as well made and just as binding as those concocted in the capitol at Tallahassee."

And so they are to the faithful band of women who gather every Thursday afternoon in the little Sunday school building, and join heart and hand in helping each other to enjoy and improve the two hours a week rescued from their household cares. For nearly every member is a mother, not of one, but in several cases of eight and ten children, with no one to assist in the daily and hourly work attending such a household, so that the first rule made and rigidly enforced, "No babies allowed at the meetings," is a genuine relief, and gives time and freedom for much that would be otherwise impossible.

Sometimes the children are taken to a neighboring house, ten or twelve little tots from one to three years old, and a husband or eldest son volunteers to oversee those that are able to walk, in which case, as it draws near closing time, one little head after another will be seen coming, Indian file, along the narrow path, all of them bareheaded or nearly so, in search of mamma and generally in great glee at having escaped. Of course there follows a grand baby show.

The originator of the club is its president, Miss Flora McFarlane, of New Jersey, a woman who has proved herself in every way capable for the life she intends leading, having homesteaded a hundred and fifty acres of government lands, which she has gone bravely to work to clear and improve.

The officers of the club are the president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer and caretaker, who has entire charge of the club's workbasket, giving out the work and collecting materials, such as scissors, thimbles, needle books, patterns and button box, after each meeting. These meetings occur every Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

At the organizing of the clnb it was voted that the time be spent in making nseful articles of clothing from material of ther given to the club (thereupon the president presented a dozen kitchen ons) or bought with the club's funds, the funds being derived from member thip dues (which were promptly paid, so that the treasurer found herself busy at once) or gifts. That such articles should be sold at each meeting, and to members, at cost price.

That the money received for the first year be spent in the purchase of materials and also in suitable and useful articles for a bazaar, to be held at the annual meeting for the benefit of the church building. That resident mem-bers be elected by means of a vote cast with black and white beam; distant or correspondence members on the good faith of the housekeeper proposing them.

Bright, newsy letters are received from the nonresident members, and all sorts of gifts in the way of household erticles, from half a dozen cup towels

Taking Photographs by Balloon.

It is proposed that balloon photography should be used in sieges by the besiegers. One plan is to start a small balloon, loaded with a camera, to windward of the fortress, the plates being exposed by means of clockwork arrangement or slow match. These, of course, are adjusted to the time which would clapse before the balloon will reach the point or points where the exposures are to be made. The gas escapes, and the balloon descends on the farther side of the fortress, within the besiegers' lines,
